POSTCARDS FROM POTATOLAND

WELCOME TO IDAHO! ENJOY THIS PICTORIAL DIARY OF THE IDAHO® POTATO HARVEST TOUR where bloggers, chefs, and food writers had the opportunity to visit our beautiful state for a little hands-on potato education. Our guests visited potato farms, sheds and processing facilities and sampled a lot of different (and delicious) potato preparations over the course of the three-day tour. While they learned what makes Idaho® potatoes the best—including the ideal climate (warm days and cool nights) and soil that is rich with volcanic materials—they also experienced the passion of folks in the industry first hand. It's a passion that's definitely contagious.

Be sure to enjoy some post-tour chef, blogger and writer recipes included in this directory that were inspired by the tour.

OUR MOST POPULAR VARIETIES

IDAHO® POTATOES are unmatched in their exceptional quality, wholesome taste, and extensive variety. From the go-to Russet Burbank to the delectable Yukon Gem, we're proud to offer you the best potatoes from the best earth on Earth™.

RUSSET BURBANK

BACKGROUND: Developed in 1914 by Lou Sweet, a previous president of the Potato Association of America. Scientist Luther Burbank is credited with the discovery of the original seeds. While Idaho growers have successfully produced many varieties over the years, the Russet Burbank is their greatest commercial success and has established a strong brand equity for the state. A late-maturing variety that requires a 140- to 150-day growing season.

APPEARANCE: The exterior skin is relatively thin and light brown in color. The exterior shape is oval and slightly flattened, with few shallow eyes. The interior is off-white to ivory and moderately dense.

FLAVOR PROFILE: A distinctive, earthy potato flavor. The high solid (starch) yields a grainy texture and slightly chewy skin. Bakes up dry and fluffy; fries crisp and golden brown.

USAGE: Fresh, frozen, or dehydrated, this variety is ideal to all preparation styles.

RUSSET NORKOTAH

BACKGROUND: Released in 1987 by North Dakota State University, this variety now ranks second in popularity for fresh-market use. Attractive type (refers to consistent oval shape); a high percentage of No. 1 potatoes is common with this early-maturing variety.

APPEARANCE: Excellent conformation; attractive medium-brown color with a long to oblong shape.

FLAVOR PROFILE: A mild potato flavor with a soft texture and moderate density. Tends to bake up creamy and moist, not grainy. Moderately chewy skin. White to pale yellow interior. Medium specific gravity for most; newer generations have higher starch content.

USAGE: Grown primarily for the fresh market. Because of the uniform appearance, has had good success in the retail grocery segment and foodservice. Well suited to all preparation types.

ALTURAS RUSSET

BACKGROUND: A late-maturing, high-yielding russet potato cultivar with a high tuber specific gravity that was released in 2002 by the USDA/ARS and the Agricultural Experiment Stations of Idaho, Oregon, and Washington. A high percentage of No. 1 potatoes is common with this variety.

APPEARANCE: Excellent conformation and an attractive medium-brown color with an oblong shape. They tend to be short.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Culinary quality is high, with larger tubers suitable for fresh market if heavily russeted skin is not essential.

USAGE: Grown primarily for the processed market. Its resistance to the accumulation of sugars during long-term storage also makes it suitable for processing out of storage into french fries. Makes excellent mashed potatoes.

BANNOCK RUSSET

BACKGROUND: Bannock Russet was released in 1999 by the USDA Agricultural Research Service and the Agricultural Experiment Stations of Idaho, Oregon, and Washington. It is a late-maturing, oblong russet variety with excellent fresh-pack and processing qualities.

APPEARANCE: It has an attractive russeted skin and short tuber length. Excellent culinary qualities also make it suitable for the fresh market. Bannock Russet, in comparison with Russet Burbank, has consistently produced greater U.S. No. 1 yields.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Similar to Russet Burbank.

USAGE: When stored at 45°F, the Bannock Russet produces a lighter fry color and has a lower glucose concentration compared to a Russet Burbank. Medium to high solids.

BLAZER RUSSET

BACKGROUND: Named a variety in 2005, this is one of the newest graduates of the potato-breeding program of U.S. university research scientists in the Intermountain West and Pacific. It is ready to harvest earlier than other leading potatoes, meaning the Blazer Russet can replenish dwindling supplies of potatoes remaining in cold storage from the previous harvest.

APPEARANCE: The oblong, medium to large tubers average about 7 to 8 oz. each. They have characteristic light russeting on their brown to tan skin, with firm, cream-white or white flesh inside.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Similar to Russet Burbank; yields dry and fluffy baked potatoes and golden fries with crisp outer flesh and dry mashed flavor center.

USAGE: Well suited for fresh-market sale or for potato processors to make into frozen potato products.

CLASSIC RUSSET

BACKGROUND: Released by the Tri-State Breeding Program in 2009, this early to medium variety is a possible replacement for the popular Norkotah. It has excellent fresh-merit ratings and exceeds other leading potatoes in its overall score.

APPEARANCE: Classic has excellent tuber shape and appearance, and a high proportion of No. 1s, high solids, and good fry color.

FLAVOR PROFILE: The Classic Russet has a higher protein content than many of the standard russet varieties (22–32 percent greater). It also has a high culinary rating, with qualities similar to Russet Burbank. It is light and fluffy in baking and produces light fries after harvest and shortly thereafter.

USAGE: Sold in fresh-pack markets and processed right out of the field or during the early storage season.

CLEARWATER RUSSET

BACKGROUND: Released by the Tri-State Program in 2009, this is a medium to late variety for both fresh and processing markets. It has a high protein content, measuring 38 percent greater than Russet Burbank. This variety has an exceptionally high yield average, specific gravity, and high solids.

APPEARANCE: It produces oblong tubers with brown, medium-heavy russet skin. The eyes are shallow in depth and intermediate in number and are evenly distributed. Tuber set is low, and tuber size averages medium. The flesh is white to creamy white and firm.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Qualities similar to Russet Burbank. A light and fluffy baker with excellent fry characteristics and taste, often outperforming Ranger Russet and Russet Burbank in tests.

USAGE: Its excellent fry color out of storage and its attractiveness make this variety suitable for both processing and fresh-market usage. It has a high specific gravity and is resistant to sugar ends, as well as most internal and external tuber defects.

PREMIER RUSSET

BACKGROUND: A product of the cooperative USDA/ARS/University of Idaho breeding program in Aberdeen. From a 1993 cross between two varieties. It has been evaluated for several years in public and industry trials throughout the western United States.

APPEARANCE: A mid- to late-season variety notable for its high yield of oblong to long, medium-russet-color tubers, high specific gravity, excellent fry color from cold storage, and resistance to sugar ends. Brown skin color and white flesh interior.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Culinary quality is high, with larger tubers suitable for fresh market.

USAGE: Good yields of larger-size 12 oz. and larger tubers versus the Russet Burbank. Its resistance to the accumulation of sugars during long-term storage also makes it suitable for processing out of storage into french fries. Makes excellent mashed potatoes and dry, fluffy baked potatoes.

I cook to make people happy, and Idaho® potatoes make people happy.
They're everything you've come to expect in a potato.

KEVIN DAVIS
CHEF, SEATTLE, WA

RANGER RUSSET

BACKGROUND: Ranger Russet is a medium- to late-maturing russet potato jointly released by the USDA and the University of Idaho in 1991. It has high solids and is used mostly for frozen processing and occasionally for fresh pack.

APPEARANCE: Long and slightly flattened shape with a medium-russet-color skin and white flesh. Eyes are numerous and medium to deep. Produces a consistently long shape and high percentage of U.S. No. 1 potatoes.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Culinary traits: bakes up dry and fluffy with outstanding potato flavor. Fries crisp and light golden in color.

USAGE: Grown primarily for the processed market. Because of the high specific gravity (averaging 1.095 in Idaho) with low sugars, this variety processes well for lightly colored fries with good texture.

UMATILLA RUSSET

BACKGROUND: Umatilla Russet was jointly released by Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and the ARS/USDA in 1998. This cultivar has attributes that make it an excellent choice for frozen processing.

APPEARANCE: Attributes include a high specific gravity, good fry color, uniform tuber shape, and good resistance to internal physiological disorders. Umatilla produces significantly more U.S. No. 1 tubers 12 oz. or larger than the Russet Burbank typically does.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Taste test panels have rated the flavor and texture of Umatilla to be at least as good as, or better than, Russet Burbank.

USAGE: Grown for fresh and frozen french fry processing, with fry colors lighter than the Russet Burbank. In general, Umatilla Russet has less glucose and sucrose accumulation in storage compared to that of Russet Burbank.

WESTERN RUSSET

BACKGROUND: Western Russet is a product of the USDA/ARS and University of Idaho, originally crossed in 1979 and released in 2004.

APPEARANCE: Good external appearance and processing qualities. Oblong tubers with russet-brown skin. High percentage of U.S. No. 1 potatoes. Tuber size is moderate to large with a slightly flattened shape, shallow eyes, and white flesh color.

FLAVOR PROFILE: A moderately high specific gravity allows potatoes to bake up relatively dry and fluffy, slightly more moist than the Russet Burbank. Very good potato flavor.

USAGE: Grown for fresh and frozen french fry processing, with fry colors comparable to the Russet Burbank.

IDAHO

FROM

THE OUTSIDE, IN!

A FRESH PERSPECTIVE FROM POTATO LAND

WE ♥ IDAHO! From harvest to table, the bloggers, chefs and writers experienced the beautiful state of Idaho like never before.

The tour took us on a loop-de-loop around eastern Idaho thanks to grower, pilot, and Idaho potato commissioner James Hoff.

LOOP DE LOOP
 HOW FUN IS THAT?

The best way to show how we're outstanding in the field is to go experience one.

We had guests from all over the country—New Mexico to New York, California to Florida—many of whom had never been to Idaho. There was a lot of excitement to dive in and experience a lifestyle that was miles away, figuratively and literally, from home.

What kind of hosts would we be if we didn't load them up with some fun Idaho souvenirs?

OTHER VARIETIES

TRADITIONALLY, Idaho has been known for its Russet Burbank potatoes. After all, that's what made us famous! We grow billions of pounds of potatoes each year—most of which are russet varieties such as the Russet Norkotah. But many acres are now devoted to reds, yellows, and other niche varieties. So we are becoming the one-stop shop for producing a wide array of excellent varieties.

ALL BLUE

APPEARANCE: Smooth, oblong, medium size; deep blue to almost purple skin.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Moist, firm flesh with slightly grainy texture.

USAGE: Fresh market. Especially suited to potato salads.

BINTJE

APPEARANCE: Small to medium-size round tubers with golden skin and yellow flesh. Smooth and well rounded. Skin has a silk-like finish.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Exceptional flavor. Some describe it as having a unique, light, nut-like flavor.

USAGE: Best served roasted or as french fries; often seen as the standard for European-style or Belgian fries.

CAL RED

APPEARANCE: The tubers have a bright red skin color, round and smooth shape, shallow eyes, and a medium specific gravity for reds. White flesh.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Waxy; makes a good potato salad; skin color stays red.

USAGE: Fresh market.

FRENCH FINGERLING

APPEARANCE: Large fingerling tubers with smooth, dark, rose-red skin and waxy, yellow flesh.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Has a delicate, nutty flavor.

USAGE: Especially suited to potato salads, roasting, or sautéing.

AMA ROSA

APPEARANCE: Small to medium-size firm, oblong-shaped tubers with bright red skin, and deep red flesh.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Sweet and creamy fingerlings.

USAGE: Ideal for baking, roasting, and grilling. They also make mouth-watering and colorful potato chips because they retain their sweetness and bright red color.

Post Card

I spent the week in Idaho learning all about potato harvesting and processing with my friends at IPC. I loved being on the farm and seeing the entire process from planting to harvesting—all the way to french fry/tot/potato flakes production. Truly fascinating stuff!

Beyond the educational part of the trip, I thoroughly enjoyed seeing Idaho. I went horseback riding and ice skating—all the things that are pretty much unavailable to me in my corner of the country. It was really great to be blown away by such a beautiful state!

The group we were touring with was by far the greatest part of my week. To be surrounded by men and women of all ages, from all parts of the country, who are dedicated and passionate about what they do, and so willing to share ideas, was beyond great!

HUCKLEBERRY GOLD

APPEARANCE: Round to oval tubers with purple skin and yellow flesh noted for their excellent culinary qualities and high level of antioxidants.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Good potato flavor.

USAGE: Primarily used as mashed potatoes and in salad preparations. Roasting or boiling are also popular cooking procedures.

NORLAND

APPEARANCE: Tubers are oblong, smooth, slightly flattened, and medium red with shallow eyes. Seldom off-type in shape. Color decreases after maturity.

The deep skin color of dark red is appealing when prepared with the skin on. White flesh. Baby reds typically command a premium price.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Moist texture, as the specific gravity is low to intermediate. Excellent potato flavor.

USAGE: Fresh—excellent for boiling, roasting, and salad preparations.

PURPLE PERUVIAN

APPEARANCE: Fingerling tubers with purple skin and dry, earthy, bright purple flesh.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Mild potato flavor.

USAGE: Especially suited to potato salads, roasting, or sautéing.

RED THUMB FINGERLING

APPEARANCE: Red skin, red flesh, and smooth skin make this 1-by-2-inch tuber highly appealing.

FLAVOR PROFILE: It is sweeter than Russian Banana potatoes but not as starchy as some potato varieties.

USAGE: This variety is best when roasted and is also suitable for potato salads.

IDA ROSE

APPEARANCE: Oblong tubers with bright red skin that retains color during storage and moist, firm, white flesh. The skin can russet slightly in light soils.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Considered to be an excellent potato for baking, microwaving, and boiling. Ranks high in taste tests.

USAGE: General purpose. Popular as a salad potato.

RED LA SODA

APPEARANCE: Light red or pink color, oval shape with smooth skin and a deep red skin color. Eyes have medium depth.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Considered good for baking and boiling. Ranks high in taste tests. Its moderate specific gravity makes this a somewhat unusual red variety and provides a drier, fluffier texture than is common with reds.

USAGE: Fresh market.

RUBY CRESCENT

APPEARANCE: Plants produce rosy-skinned tubers with moderately dry, yellow flesh.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Mild, slightly nutty flavor.

USAGE: Especially suited to potato salads or roasting.

RUSSIAN BANANA

APPEARANCE: Small fingerling tubers with buff-yellow skin and light yellow, waxy-textured flesh.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Has a rich, buttery flavor.

USAGE: Especially suited to potato salads, roasting, or sautéing.

TERRA ROSA

APPEARANCE: Red skin and red flesh, oblong shape.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Similar to other reds; ranks well in taste tests.

USAGE: Ideal for microwaving, frying, or baking; chips retain rosy color and resist fading.

YELLOW FINN

APPEARANCE: Dark yellow, waxy flesh; flattened pear or oval shape; light, tan-yellow skin.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Waxiness gives moist texture accompanied by a rich, buttery taste that is slightly sweeter than Yukon Gold.

USAGE: Primarily fresh. Boiled, fried, baked, and mashed. Often used in potato salads.

YUKON GEM

APPEARANCE: This round-oblong, yellow-fleshed tuber has an optimal size profile. It has pink, shallow eyes.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Good waxy to drier texture with a golden buttery taste.

USAGE: Excellent processed, with a notable taste profile for products such as chips. An excellent replacement or alternative to Yukon Gold for the fresh market. Also has been suitable for organic production.

YUKON GOLD

APPEARANCE: Relatively light yellow skin color; yellow interior with moist flesh. Shallow eyes that are well distributed. A medium specific gravity.

FLAVOR PROFILE: Originally marketed as having a buttery flavor, which comes from a combination of the yellow flesh and moist texture. Good potato flavor.

USAGE: In foodservice, chefs have gravitated to the Yukon Gold image as a positive one for menu branding. Primarily used as mashed and in salad preparations. Roasting or boiling are also popular cooking procedures.

Idaho® potatoes are the best potatoes you can buy on the market. They have a more consistent grade and size profile. And you know where they're coming from.

I was on a whirlwind potato harvest tour with the Idaho Potato Commission. I now know a lot more about the growing, harvesting, storage and processing of potatoes than I ever thought I would. We visited several growers, shippers, and processors. The super glam part of the trip was staying in the most stunning Idaho fall setting of flaming autumn foliage.

I was a HUGE FAN of potatoes leading up to the tour, so I was content to eat them all day for four days and then come back to New York City with one day to spare and make a Carnitas Pie with a potato crust.

There was a lot of time spent traveling on the bus, providing plenty of opportunities to get to know each other, form lasting friendships and have some fun.

It's Idaho so of course there's a potato museum, and no Potato Tour would be complete without a stop here!

No potato farm is complete without a farm dog (or two) says Lila.

WERE HERE!

From the fields of the eastern part of the state to the volcanic rock of Craters of the Moon to the mountains of Sun Valley, our guests experienced the vast diversity and beauty of Idaho.

It didn't take long for the guests to start looking the part.

James and Darla Hoff, along with his parents, Bob and Jane, put an amazing and generous spread on in their hangar amongst their collection of vintage planes.

We chose Idaho® potatoes for flavor first, but over time we have found they are extremely consistent, which means we don't have to constantly change our recipes.

LOADED CHEESY IDAHO® POTATO CASSEROLE

Prep time: 20 mins | Cook time: 50 mins | Total time: 1 hour 10 mins | Yield: 1 (1.5-quart) dish, serves about 6 to 8 as a side dish.

This loaded cheesy potato casserole features cheddar cheese, turkey bacon, and green onions...it's pure comfort food!

INGREDIENTS

- 1 (1.25 lb/567 g) package mini yellow Idaho® potatoes, chopped into bite-sized pieces
- 2 tablespoons unsalted butter, plus more to grease the dish
- 1 medium-large onion, diced
- 2 slices turkey bacon, chopped small (optional)
- 1 clove garlic, minced or crushed
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 1 cup (240 ml) milk (low-fat is fine)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 cup (120 g) sour cream
- 6 oz (170 g) cheddar cheese, shredded
- 1 scallion, green and white parts, thinly sliced (for garnish)

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat the oven to 375°F; grease a 1.5-quart casserole dish with butter.
2. Add the potatoes to a medium saucepan and cover by 2" with cold water. Cover the saucepan and bring it to a simmer, then remove the lid, turn the heat down slightly so it doesn't boil over, and cook until the potatoes are fork-tender, about 6 to 8 minutes. Drain. (You can do this step a day ahead if you want; cool the potatoes to room temperature and then refrigerate them until you make the casserole.)
3. Meanwhile, add the butter to a medium-large skillet over medium heat. Once hot, add the onion and turkey bacon and cook until the onion is softened but not browned, about 5 to 7 minutes, stirring occasionally. Turn the heat down to medium-low and stir in the garlic and flour; cook 1 minute more, stirring constantly.

4. Whisk in the milk, salt, and black pepper and bring to a simmer, stirring constantly. Turn off the heat.
4. Stir the potatoes, sour cream, and 2/3 of the shredded cheddar cheese into the onion sauce. Use a potato masher or fork to roughly mash about 1/3 of the potato mixture; pour the potato mixture into the prepared dish. Sprinkle the remaining 1/3 of the shredded cheddar cheese on top.
5. Bake until the casserole is golden and bubbling, about 20 to 30 minutes.
6. Sprinkle the scallion on top and serve.

NOTES: To make ahead, make the recipe through Step 4. Cool to room temperature, and then cover and refrigerate for up to 2 days. When you want to make it, let it sit at room temperature for 30 minutes and then continue on with Steps 5 and 6.

Post Card
GREETINGS
IDAHO!

Can you imagine how excited I was when the Idaho Potato Commission asked me to join their potato harvest tour? It was a food geek's dream come true. Besides visiting potato farms, we also got to do some sight-seeing and recreation around Idaho. I can't say that I have become a potato expert, but it certainly made me appreciate the efforts of potato farmers and processors so much more. The work that goes into turning a potato seedling into a commercial product requires persistence and a heavy dose of patience, more than I can ever muster. However, when you speak to these farmers and processors, I could sense that they feel passionate about what they do, and I have nothing but admiration for them.

In honor of my trip to Idaho, I decided to cook up some potato fritters. Yes, even after spending 4 days eating potatoes at every meal, I went home and cooked EVEN MORE potatoes. I told you I couldn't live without them! For my recipe visit www.healthynibblesandbits.com/turmeric-zucchini-and-potato-fritters

Post Card GREETINGS FROM IDAHO!

Every year the Idaho Potato Commission hosts a select group of bloggers, chefs and editors to experience the Idaho Potato Harvest. Get a preview in the short video on my website.

Special thanks to Don Odiorne, Travis Blacker, Jamie Bowen, and Sue Kennedy for an experience like no other. And of course, SUPER BIG thanks to the cool kids on the bus.

Truly immeasurable thanks for the wild ride in the bright red 1943 Boeing Stearman biplane that appears in commercials for Famous Idaho® Potatoes. And to farmer Alex Tiede for getting us on the harvester to see first hand the sheer volume of spuds that can be unearthed in 45 minutes. Wow! Wow! Wow!

← FROM →

THE HEART OF POTATO LAND

Decked out in some new attire, the team gets ready to tour Idahoan Foods after visiting Lamb Weston the day before. The best part? Sampling, of course!

We heard time and time again how blown away our guests were by the sheer amount of potatoes Idaho grows.

There is no doubt that in Idaho we love our potatoes!

The Harvest Tour could really be called Potato Boot Camp. We've got some budding potato experts here.

Most of Five Guys Burgers hand-cut fries come from potatoes grown right here in Idaho.

Bryan Wada jumped on the tour at Wada Farms to explain their process and answer any questions.

I like the starchy content of Idaho® potatoes and their flavor. They're really consistent.
We use them for, I'd say, 95 percent of our potato dishes.

IDAHO POTATOES
Featured ★ Blogger

Post Card

I recently had the chance to attend a potato harvest tour in Idaho. I got to see the full "life cycle" of a potato, from learning about planting, to harvest, to processing, to plate. As you can imagine, we were given delicious Idaho® potatoes to eat at breakfast, lunch and dinner. You'd think that I'd come home and want a break from potatoes for a bit, but that wasn't the case at all. In fact, I had mashed potatoes with my dinner the very next night after arriving home. They make good days even better. Basically, I just want mashed potatoes all the time, all year 'round. Try my recipe at www.foxeslovelemons.com/parmesan-mashed-potatoes-with-quick-sausage-ragu

I love going on tours to learn more about the place I'm visiting. Maybe it's because I still love to learn. Or maybe because it's an excuse to take photos for fun and not stress about it for work. Recently, the Idaho Potato Commission invited me to visit Idaho and experience the Idaho Potato Harvest where it was expected to yield about 13 billion pounds of potatoes this year—roughly one-third of all the potatoes grown in the U.S. I learned about the life cycle of a potato from field to fork and even dug some spuds for you to eat. As you can imagine, we ate every kind of potato there is—mashed, roasted, baked, fried, salad, potato rolls, potato chip cookies, even a potato candy bar.

You'd think after my trip to Idaho, I'd be tired of potatoes. Nope—I still ate baked potatoes when I got home.

CHICKEN POT PIE BAKED IDAHO® POTATOES

Prep time: 15 mins | Cook time: 60 mins | Total time: 1 hour 15 mins | Yield: 4

INGREDIENTS

- 4 Idaho® potatoes
- Olive oil, for brushing
- Salt, to taste
- 1 tablespoon vegetable oil
- 1 boneless, skinless chicken breast, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 2 tablespoons butter, divided
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 1 cup chicken broth
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup frozen vegetable medley (carrots, peas, corn, and green beans)
- 1/4 cup panko breadcrumbs
- 1/4 teaspoon dried parsley

DIRECTIONS

1. Preheat oven to 425°F. Place potatoes on a baking sheet. Brush each with olive oil, sprinkle with salt, and prick with the tines of a fork. Bake for 45-60 minutes or until fork tender.
2. Meanwhile, in a large skillet over medium heat, heat the vegetable oil. Add the chicken. Cook for 4 minutes then flip and cook until no longer pink in the middle, another 3-5 minutes. Transfer the chicken to a bowl and keep warm.
3. Add 1 tablespoon butter to any meat drippings left in the skillet and melt. Add onion and cook until soft, about 5-8 minutes. Add the flour and stir to coat. Slowly whisk in the chicken broth. Bring to a boil and cook until thickened, about 3-5 minutes. Whisk in the milk and salt and bring back to a boil. Add the vegetable medley and cooked chicken. Cook another 1-2 minutes or until hot.

4. In a small skillet, melt the remaining 1 tablespoon butter. Add the breadcrumbs and cook until brown, about 5-8 minutes. Stir in parsley.
5. Cut each baked potato in half. Top with pot pie mixture and breadcrumbs. Serve immediately.

MICROWAVE METHOD

1. After rubbing the potatoes with oil and salt, prick them with the tines of a fork. Place them on a microwave-safe dish (you may need to do this in batches) and microwave at full power for 5 minutes. Turn them over and microwave for another 3-5 minutes. If middle is still hard, microwave in additional 1 minute bursts until cooked through.
2. While potatoes are cooking, make the pot pie mixture as previously directed.

IDAHO® POTATOES

ARE NOT A VARIETY

The term Idaho® potatoes refers to the source of origin—the state of Idaho. While it primarily produces russets, Idaho also grows several other varieties of potatoes to meet foodservice and consumer requests.

Since 1996, the Idaho® potato shipping industry has placed the name of each variety of potato on the exterior of the cartons or bags.

Look for these designations in printed type or as a stencil on cartons, in type, or as a quick-lock-style closure on the retail bags.

HINTS & TIPS

AUTHENTICITY

The Grown in Idaho® seal on each carton is a certification mark designating that the potatoes inside came from Idaho. While some carton bases may also have the words Genuine Idaho® or utilize the seal in a graphic showing potato fields, only the exterior carton is required by law to show the Idaho designation. When you order, request Idaho® potatoes by name.

STORAGE

The Idaho Potato Commission recommends that cartons be stored with the lids on at a temperature range of 45°F–48°F.

TRACKING INFO

In addition to the required potato-variety labeling, each foodservice carton also shows a shed number to determine which shipper packed the product. You can find this listing in the Shed ID Numbers table on this page.

Each carton also has a pack date referencing the date that the potatoes were graded, washed, sorted, and placed in the carton.

The number is a three-digit code that represents the consecutive day of the year—the Julian date—starting with January 1 as 1 and ending with December 31 as 365 (366 on a leap year).

To determine the Julian dates, please see the chart on page 45 or access a Julian date converter to calculate the day/month pack date by entering this link into your Web browser:

GLOBAL APPRECIATION OF IDAHO

One of the most effective ways to “sell” Idaho® potatoes to markets thousands of miles from the source is to bring representatives in the produce industry to Idaho and let them experience the Idaho® potato harvest firsthand.

And by firsthand, we mean very literally digging their own potatoes and having the conversation about the ideal growing environment, soil health and proper storage. Oh, and it's free labor!

Potatoes are not the only item that can fill a potato sack!

Planning events that bring the growers and shippers away from their fields and into an atmosphere that promotes a better understanding of personalities strengthens the relationships.

Arranging tours where the growers and shippers personally meet and guide these prospective buyers through their facilities is the beginning of a relationship. Our guests walk through the entire process—from field to storage. Sorting and sizing is an important part of the process.

Even a 30th birthday wasn't enough to keep Faith from An Edible Mosaic from coming on the Tour. We, of course, had to celebrate.

A FRESH PERSPECTIVE OF IDAHO

Chefs and editors glean every bit of knowledge they can from Dr. Potato (Don Odiorne).

Class adjourned! Now it's time to have some serious fun Idaho style!
